TIME EFFACED SIGNS OF CRIME

But New Orleans Has More Recent Case Against Girl Prisoner

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 29.—Miss Annie Crawford, who was arrested on the charge of poisoning her sister Elsie, who died last Saturday, will not be charged with murder in connection with the death of her mother, father and sister Agnes, who died suddenly within the last fifteen months.

The city chemist announced today that it would be impossible to detect opium poisoning in the stomachs of any of the corpses, owing to the length of time they had been interred.

The girl continues calm in the face of the charges against her, and acts healthily. It was stated that she has today no money to pay counsel, so the state will furnish her a lawyer.

BOSTON ANCIENTS ON JAUNT.
BOSTON, Mass., Sept. 29.—The members of Boston's famous military organization, the Ancient and Honorable Artillery company, left the city today for a trip to Bermuda, where they are to be entertained during a week's visit by the British military and civil officials.

DAY OF EXCITEMENT AND VARIOUS RUMORS

Officers of Cochise County in Pursuit of Elusive
Tramp

The armed official strength of Cochise county was on the qui vive yesterday and the vicinity of Don Luis and Tintown was literally bristling with 30-30's and six shooters. Information was received at Lowell yesterday morning at 7 o'clock that a tramp had attempted a criminal assault on an eight-year-old Douglas girl Thursday night and that he had gone in the direction of Bisbee.

The message, which was received at the White House saloon, at Lowell, was given to Officers Hall and Bailey of Lowell and they notified the officers in Bisbee. Within half an hour, after the receipt of the alleged information every Lowell and Bisbee officer was en route to Don Luis, where a suspicious looking man had been seen by a railroad section foreman to leave a freight train.

As the news spread over the district the officials were joined by volunteers, anxious to participate in a man hunt. Bisbee, seeing the hurried departure of the officers, armed to the teeth, immediately jumped to a conclusion. Henry Hall, of Lowell had gone to Tintown to arrest a Mexican and had been surrounded in a corner and was even now, report said, battling for his life.

Pretty soon a bulletin came in, by grapevine. Hall had killed two of the Mexicans and was slowly but surely fighting his way through an enraged army of Mexicans.

A Mexican, picking his way carefully along the Tintown streets, said that that was not the trouble at all, that a man had stolen a little girl at Douglas and was in hiding in one of the canyons around Tintown. Ah! a kidnaper.

A man, standing guard on the railroad track, armed with a 30-30, said that the man was a criminal assassin, his victim an eight-year-old Douglas girl. He had received the news from Douglas over the telephone.

Deputy Sheriff Will White came up from Douglas about 10 o'clock and said that there had been no criminal assault in that town but that an unknown tramp had inveigled a little newsboy out to the edge of the city for the ostensible purpose of hunting rabbits and had attempted a crime.

A description of the man wanted accompanied the message from Douglas and it answered to the description of a man who had been seen by a railroad section foreman to leave a freight train at Don Luis and enter a canyon south of Tintown. This clue was followed up but none of the Bisbee or Lowell officers got a glimpse of the tramp.

A dairyman coming up from the Warren ranch was encountered by Officer Bissett Watkins and asked if he had seen a tramp of the description furnished by Douglas officers. Yes, the dairyman had passed such a man and if the officer would hurry he would be able to overtake him. The officer overtook the man, who differed as much from the man wanted as Mutt differs from Jeff.

The dairyman, meeting a portion of the anxious posse, said that he had pointed the man out to Watkins and that the officer probably had the man by that time.

News of the outrage on the Douglas youth was telephoned and telegraphed all over the county yesterday morning and unless the assassin succeeds in getting across the international line, he will probably be caught.

HURRYING TO A FUNERAL

Jeffries Brothers Reach Seattle from the North

SEATTLE, Sept. 29.—James and Jack Jeffries, hastening to Los Angeles to attend the funeral of their mother, who died recently, reached Seattle tonight in time to catch a train for the south. The couple had been hunting in the wilds of the Kodiak islands when a scout carrying the news of their mother's serious illness reached them. Their mother died while they were coming.

LONDON'S LORD MAYOR NEW ONE "ELECTED"

Sir Thomas Crosby Arrives at That Honor By His Succession

LONDON, Sept. 29.—Having been an alderman for thirteen years and filled the office of sheriff for one term, Sir Thomas Bosc Crosby, wealthy merchant and financier, today went through the solemn farce of being elected lord mayor of the city of London. He will be formally installed in office on November 9, when the time-honored peasant known as the "lord mayor's show" will take place.

Unlike all other great municipalities, London's lord mayor is not chosen by the people, though there was a time—some 200 or more years ago—when they really were elected by the citizens. But the aldermen, who are elected for life, decided that a position so exalted as that of lord mayor should not be thrown open to outsiders and made dependent on popular favor. So they fixed things up so that every alderman, if he live long enough, is assured of becoming lord mayor when his turn comes. When Sir Thomas Vesey Strong was elected last year, Sir Thomas Crosby was "next," and now it is his turn to take the civic chair.

The system pleases the aldermen and does not make much difference to anybody else. The office of lord mayor has long been shorn of its once great powers and has become a mere figurehead billet, though it is lavished with more fictitious dignity than any other post in England. No more violent contrast is to be found the world over than that existing between the various duties of the lord mayor. Theoretically, at least, the king of Great Britain and Ireland and emperor of India cannot enter the city of London without his consent. Yet he spends a considerable part of each day dispensing justice upon the inebriates and other petty offenders who have broken the peace of the square mile of territory over which he rules. In addition to his duties as a magistrate, he is required to attend probably 500 public and semi-public dinners, balls, receptions and meetings of various kinds during the year he spends in the high office. For these duties he receives a salary equal to that of the president of the United States and twice as much as that of the prime minister of Great Britain.

Perhaps it is as well that the lord mayor nowadays does not possess the supreme power of some of his early predecessors. The mayor who did fealty to Henry III, for instance, had the temerity to add, "My lord, so long as you unto us will be a good lord and king, we will be faithful and dutiful unto you." Then there was the Norman mayor who, being interrupted by a member of the mob when reading what would now correspond to the riot act, merely ordered the offender to be taken into a neighboring street to be beheaded, and went on reading.

TESTED BY THE FLAG A GREAT HIT

The feature film at the Orpheum for tonight is indeed one of the finest Military Dramas ever shown in this city and its thrilling scenes caused enthusiastic applause.

Miss Story makes a pretty heroine for this very melodramatic love story. The early scenes are in New York. The heroine pictures very well her difficulty in choosing between the two lovers. One is a lieutenant and is ordered on duty in the Philippines, where he leads an infantry charge against a galling gun. The other stays at home and is accepted by the girl. He evidently doubts the depth of the lady's sentiment for he steals the hero's letter to her which says he is on his way home. For some reason he also hates the flag. The hero returns and proves him a villain. He is compelled to kiss the flag and then is dismissed. The galling gun scene is thrilling. The villain plays up to his part most villainously and the picture is likely to be popular.

"The Little Cripple" a story of the tenements; "Nick Winter Turns a Trick;" and two scenic films entitled "Eastern Europe" and "Mountain Passes in New Zealand" completed an excellent Motion Picture Program. In Vaudeville Bailey's Statue Dogs and Seymour and Williams continue to please in their respective acts.

NEW BISHOP OF ARKANSAS.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Sept. 29.—The Rev. Dr. James Ridout Winchester was today consecrated bishop of the Protestant Episcopal diocese of Arkansas. The ceremony took place in Trinity Cathedral, where gathered the largest assemblage of bishops, clergy and laymen ever within its walls. The complete ritualistic ceremony of the church was carried out in the consecration ceremonies. Bishop Tuttle, of St. Louis, presided.

MILITARY WEDDING.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 29.—A number of guests from out of town have arrived in St. Paul to attend the wedding of Miss Elizabeth Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Johnson, of this city, and Lieut. Walter Reed Weaver, 23rd Infantry, U. S. A. The wedding will take place at Christ church tomorrow evening and will be a military affair. The best man and ushers will be brother officers of the bridegroom. After a wedding journey Lieut. Weaver and his bride will take up their residence at Fort Snelling.

PROGRESSIVES AFTER SCALPS OF OLD GUARD

Secretary Hauser of the National League Sees Movement Spreading Like Wild Fire

PRESIDENT'S CHANCES
GROWING IN SLIMNESS

Though the Insurrection Is Strongest in the West,
the East is Crying
for Leaders

(By Victor Elliott.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 29.—Information is being received daily at the headquarters of the progressive Republicans here to the effect that the progressive movement in all parts of the country, and especially in the west, is making great strides. These reports indicate that the chances for the nomination of a progressive for president, as opposed to President Taft, are growing stronger each day.

A report on the progressive strength in Nebraska, as well as the sentiment favoring this wing of the party in the middle west in general, was brought to headquarters by Governor Chester H. Aldrich, the militant head of the commonwealth of Nebraska, and an avowed and earnest progressive. Governor Aldrich was on his way home from the conference of governors at Spring Lake, N. J. He said the situation in Nebraska indicated that Senator LaFollette had a good chance to carry the state.

Depends On Tariff.

"How President Taft runs will, of course," he added, "depend much on what is done with the tariff next winter, and whether there is a more equitable adjustment of agricultural duties. Concerning western sentiment generally, from the talks I have had with the governors and others, I would say that the feeling in other parts of the west does not differ much from that in Nebraska. The feeling in the Dakotas is the same as that in Nebraska. In Iowa it is more divided."

Dehman men among the Democrats are supporting Harmon, said the governor, while Bryan and his friends in Nebraska are against Harmon, but well disposed toward several other candidates. Governor Aldrich told of the organization of the progressives in Nebraska, and said it is their purpose to see that progressives only are nominated for state offices, and that progressives get the support of the state in the presidential primary.

How Nebraska Will Go.

"My opinion is that the presidential primary in Nebraska will result in the selection of a delegation instructed for a progressive for president," he said.

He added that he believed there would be a straight out issue between President Taft and LaFollette in the primary. Governor Aldrich was in conference with progressive leaders here for several days. More encouragement for the leaders was found in the report made by W. L. Hauser, in charge of the headquarters here, who has just returned from a western trip. Mr. Hauser declares the movement for the nomination of a progressive is growing beyond the utmost expectations of the progressive leaders.

Progressives' Difficulty.
The problem now facing the headquarters here is to keep abreast of the development of the progressive movement throughout the country, and there is difficulty in keeping up with it, asserts Mr. Hauser. He has settled down at his desk in the Evans building and said he will keep hard at work from now until the national convention of the Republican party. He has made preparations for enlarging the headquarters.

On his trip Mr. Hauser visited Minnesota, the Dakotas, and then came back to Wisconsin and Chicago. At the progressive headquarters at the Hotel West, Minneapolis, said Mr. Hauser, half of the men there working for the progressive cause are former reactionaries converted to progressivism.

"I found the same thing to be true in other parts of the west," declared Mr. Hauser. "It seemed to me that this is of the utmost significance. The movement is growing beyond the most sanguine expectations. Not only is the overwhelming sentiment in the west in favor of our cause, but there is plenty of it in the east. The progressives in the east are unorganized and are praying for leaders. Every day we get letters from persons in these states asking for help and leadership."

Farmers Against Taft.

"The farmers in the states I visited are absolutely a unit in supporting the progressive movement and in opposition to President Taft," continued Mr. Hauser. "It has been semi-officially announced that the friends of the administration have dropped all efforts to get delegates from North Dakota."

Mr. Hauser displayed letters from Iowa leaders in the progressive movement, asserting that LaFollette would get the great bulk of the delegates from that state, and especially the four delegates-at-large would be for him. Mr. Hauser pointed out the marvelous work in organizing that is being done in Illinois.

"They are building from the ground up there," he said. "At the meetings all over the state names are enrolled of those willing to sign as supporters of the progressive movement. Out-

FIGHTING TO THE LAST AGAINST HIS RETURN

Dr. Lyman Called on Bystanders to Come to His Relief

ELAMATH FALLS, Sept. 29.—The automobile bearing Dr. John Grant Lyman, wanted by the federal authorities of California on the charge of using the mails to defraud, and J. M. Thorne, his nurse at the Oakland hospital, who helped him to escape from that institution and fled with him to Lake View, where they were captured tonight.

When the machine drove into the outskirts, Lyman and Thorne arose in their seats and shouted wildly to passersby that they were being railroaded to California.

The couple were locked up pending a hearing before the United States Commissioner here. Lyman said that United States Marshal Arnerich wanted the chauffeur to drive through the city to the station and put the prisoners aboard a California train, but the prisoners' shouts prevented it.

NOT A DELINQUENT.

Why A Chinaman Was Ordered to Be Deported.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29.—A native born American though of Chinese parentage who has lived twenty-two years in America and is still unable to speak the English language is not much of an American citizen, according to United States District Judge De Haven.

Jew Foo, a Chinese for whom the immigration authorities have prescribed an ocean voyage made such a claim in Judge De Haven's court today. But when he asked for an interpreter the judge promptly cast a doubt upon the veracity of his tale and ordered his deportation.

YOUTHFUL BANDIT.

Frank Melville Sent Up for Quarter of Century.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 29.—Frank Melville, aged seventeen, the bandit who was recently captured after a strenuous chase and a desperate battle with a posse was sentenced to twenty-five years in the penitentiary today. Following his arrest the boy confessed to a startling string of crimes, ranging from petty thievery to saloon and street car holdups. He had plied the trade of bandit in every city north of Los Angeles where he escaped from the Whittier reform school. He was captured at Vallejo after eluding the posse although twice wounded.

SAFE ASYLUM.

If Promoter Lyman Could Have Reached Canada.

LAKEVIEW, Ore., Sept. 29.—John Grant Lyman, of Oakland, who was arrested yesterday, following his sensational flight in an automobile together with J. M. Thorne, the nurse who assisted him to escape were taken to Klamath Falls today. The chauffeur driving the car in which they were fleeing was found not to be implicated, and was allowed to take his car back to California.

Lyman was supposed to have been heading for Canada where he would have been perfectly safe as the extradition treaties do not cover the use of mails to defraud which is the charge against him.

side of Chicago, they have fully 25,000 names of earnest, energetic men who are willing to see this fight through."

Mr. Hauser would not say that Senator LaFollette had made up his mind to take a big campaign around the circle, but there is every reason to believe that such a trip will be made by the progressive leader.

MEXICAN STREET CAR STRIKE

Employees Seem to Have had a Grievance

MONTEREY, Sept. 29.—The Monterey street car system is entirely tied up by a strike of the employees, who claim that they have been forced to pay for damage to the street cars, and have been thrown under suspicion by the arrest of four of their number on charges of stealing tickets. They have appealed to Mayor Martinez, exhibiting receipts for the money paid as damages, and asking him to compel the company to reimburse them.

BREAK FOR LIBERTY.

Prisoner Gave Presidio Guard a Long Chase.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29.—Unmindful of a half dozen bullets flying overhead J. Fitzallen, a military prisoner at the Presidio made an exciting break for liberty today and was only recaptured when the guard impressed a passing automobile and ran him down.

The chase covered a dozen city blocks beyond the First Avenue gate through which Fitzallen bolted. Fitzallen was doing time for two attempts to take informal leave of the United States army.

PERSIAN BATTLE.

Defeat of Brother of Lately Deposed Shah.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 29.—A Teheran dispatch says that acting on government advice a great battle was fought at Naboran, fifty miles from Teheran, yesterday. Saleria Ed Dowleh, brother of the deposed shah, lost 400 killed and 200 captured in addition to several big guns. Retired toward Hamadan to the west, the government troops pursuing.

OVERLADEN AEROPLANES

Aviator Rodgers Wants no More Names Written on its Wings

AKRON, Sept. 29.—Aviator Rodgers appealed to the public today to refrain from writing names on the wings of his aeroplanes. The pencil points make small perforations. This has been done to such an extent as to interfere with the machines' flight he said.

TWENTY-FOUR HOUR RAIN

September Record Established at Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 29.—The twenty-four hour rainfall which ended at dawn today established a record for September in this section. The weather bureau reported a precipitation of 1.23 inches.

It was the heaviest September rain in thirty-four years. The bean crop in Los Angeles, Ventura and Orange counties is damaged slightly.

ARIZONIAN FOUND DEAD

BAKERSFIELD, Sept. 29.—Edward Jennings, an oil driller who has been missing for two months and was sought through Eagles series in most of the cities of Arizona, Nevada and California, was found dead today on the desert north of McKittick.

He was a native of Camp Verde, Arizona, and has a brother, John, at Hanford, Calif. The manner of his death was not explained in the dispatches received here tonight.

FIELD GUN EXPLODES

Two Soldiers Killed and Many Injured

SPARTA, Wis., Sept. 29.—An explosion of a shrapnel field gun at the United States military camp here today killed Private Gam, of Battery A, of Cleveland, Ohio, and Sergeant Trolley, of Fort Sheridan, Ill. Several other soldiers were injured. They were taken to the hospital at Fort Sheridan.
